

HUMAN RIGHTS PLEDGE

The Free State Centre for Human Rights and the University of the Free State Community Pledge.

I, as a member of the University of the Free State community (student, academic and support staff),

1. Pledge to uphold the values of equality, respect and human dignity as the fundamental values of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996.
2. Pledge and commit to respect, protect, promote and fulfill the rights of all persons in and outside the University space as prescribed by the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 and other applicable regional and international human rights treaties.
3. Pledge and commit to promote and advocate for the rights of all people globally, nationally, and in University spaces who suffer from any form of discrimination, exclusions, or marginalisation.
4. Pledge to stand and support all efforts by the University of the Free State and relevant stakeholders to respect, protect and protect the rights and freedoms of women, LGBTQIA+, and gender diverse people.
5. Pledge to commit and support all efforts by the University of the Free State and relevant stakeholders to respect, protect, and promote full and equal enjoyment of fundamental freedoms of people with disabilities.
6. Pledge to respect the rights of others.
7. Pledge to use my privileges to advocate for the rights of others.
